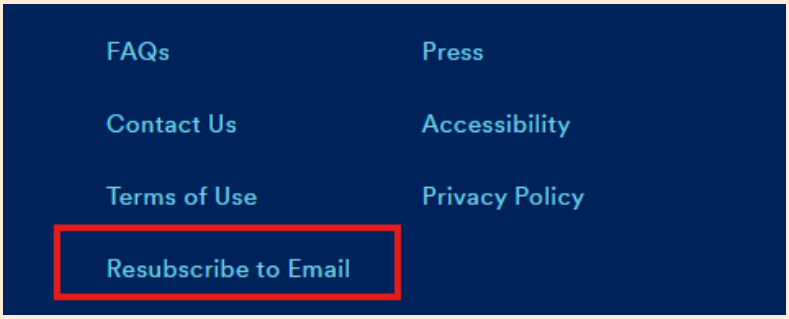
HOW TO SUBSCRIBE TO TFA EMAILS

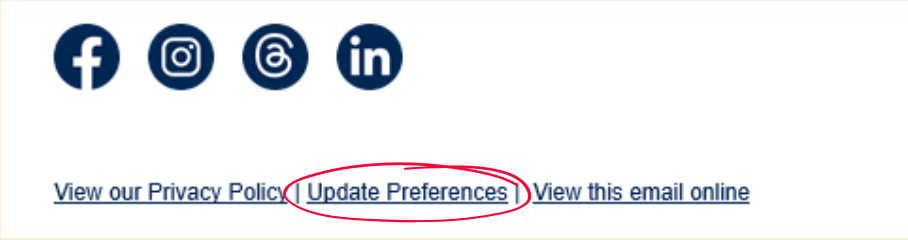
Follow the instructions below to receive the latest news, offers, and stories from the TFA network.

Step 1: Accessing Your Preference Center

Subscribe through the Teach For America Subscription Center
In the footer of teachforamerica.org. Scroll down to the bottom of the homepage and select the "Resubscribe to Email" link. That will take you to the Teach For America Subscription Center here. Input the email address from which you previously received emails from Teach For America. You will receive an error message if there is no account associated with your email address.



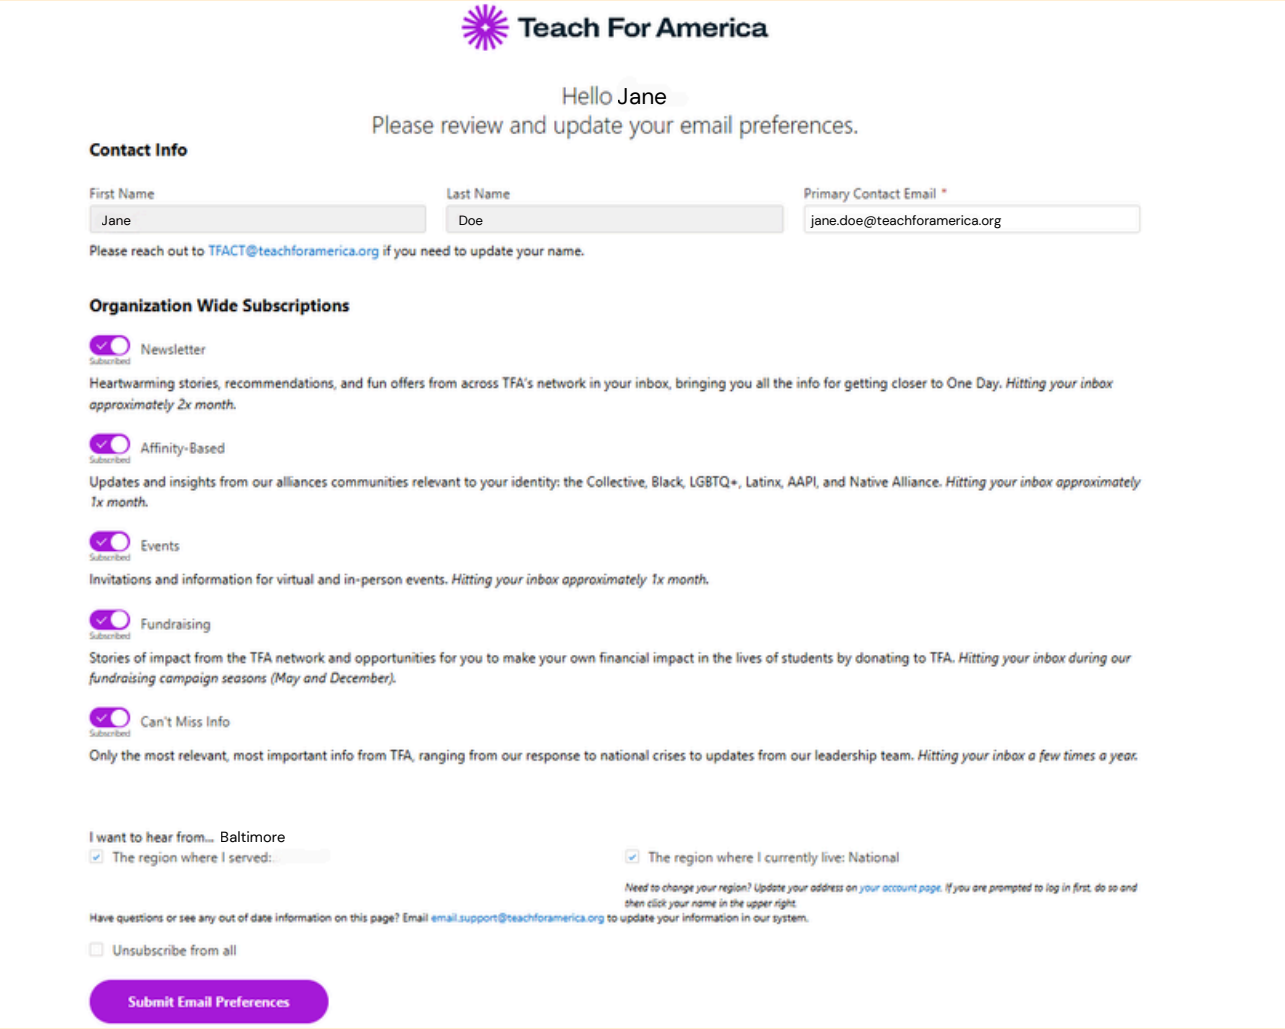
If there is an account associated with your email address, you will receive an email from Teach For America. You can visit the preference center by clicking the "Update Preferences" link at the bottom of your email*.



*Note: This method also works if you received an email from Teach For America within the past year. Select 'Update Preferences' in the bottom of that email to access your preference center.

Step 2: Update Preferences in the Preference Center

Once you are in the preference center, you can check and uncheck which types of email communications you would like to receive from Teach For America.



If you cannot change your selections, try scrolling down to the bottom of the page and make sure that “Unsubscribe from all” is not checked. Having this checked does not allow you to receive any email communications from Teach For America.

Special Notes for Alumni:

- To hear from the alumni region where you currently live, be sure that the box is checked.
- Not all regions send emails to alumni who served in their region but are no longer living there. If you have this box checked and believe there are emails you should be receiving, reach out to that region’s alumni point of contact.
